Post Reorganization of Actively Managed Equity Funds with and into New Age Alpha Funds

Effective October 25, 2024, twenty of Guggenheim Investments' actively managed equity funds reorganized with and into corresponding New Age Alpha Funds. The reorganizations affected mutual and variable insurance funds with aggregate total assets under management of approximately $2.5 billion out of Guggenheim Investments more than $234 billion in total assets managed, and over $50 billion of mutual fund assets. One fund, the Guggenheim World Equity Income Fund, did not complete its proposed reorganization; however, that Fund's reorganization is expected to occur on or about November 8, 2024 if shareholder approval is obtained by that date. The Rydex branded funds were not part of the transaction.

This transaction allows Guggenheim Investments to further concentrate on our core strengths and market leadership in fixed income, insurance assets, alternatives, and other strategies while continuing to strengthen our intermediary and institutional channels to meet the strong demand for our services.

Did CUSIPS, fund symbols and fund IDs change for the funds being reorganized?

At the closing of the reorganizations, you received shares of your fund's corresponding New Age Alpha fund. Each New Age Alpha fund has a different name and CUSIP. (Please refer to the table at end of this document for details.) Omnibus account numbers will be addressed in Q4 by New Age Alpha Advisors. The fund symbols and tax ID numbers for each fund remained unchanged after the reorganization, with the exception of the four funds that merged into the New Age Alpha Large Cap Value Fund.

Will the variable insurance funds ("VITs") continue to be offered through Security Benefit Life and Nationwide after the reorganizations?

New Age Alpha intends to establish participation agreements with Security Benefit Life, Nationwide, and other participating insurance companies to provide for a smooth transition for these firms and their clients, including by providing for the continued availability of the VITs.

Did the reorganization of the funds into corresponding New Age Alpha funds constitute a taxable event?

It is anticipated that each reorganization will qualify for U.S. federal income tax purposes as a tax-free reorganization under Section 368 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended (the "Code"). Accordingly, the funds, the New Age Alpha funds and their respective shareholders are not expected to recognize any gain or loss for U.S. federal income tax purposes from the transactions contemplated by each Reorganization Agreement. Specifically, it is expected that the funds will recognize no gain or loss upon the acquisition by the New Age Alpha funds of the assets and the assumption of the liabilities, if any, of the funds. In addition, when shares held by shareholders of the funds are exchanged for New Age Alpha fund shares pursuant to the reorganizations, it is expected that the shareholders of the funds will recognize no gain or loss on the exchange, and that each shareholder of the funds will have the same aggregate tax basis and holding period with respect to the fund shares received as the shareholder's tax basis and holding period in their fund shares immediately before the exchange.

See "Information About the Reorganizations – U.S. Federal Income Tax Consequences" in the Proxy Statement/Prospectus for more information.

Shareholders should consult their tax advisers about possible state and local tax consequences of the reorganizations, if any, because the information about tax consequences in the Proxy Statement / Prospectus" relates to the U.S. federal income tax consequences of the Reorganizations only.
