

Diversified Dividend & Income Portfolio, Series 41

Investment Objective

The Diversified Dividend & Income Portfolio, Series 41 (Trust) seeks to provide dividend income potential coupled with the potential for long-term capital appreciation.

Key Considerations

- Diversified Portfolio: The Trust is a diversified portfolio of domestic equities across all of the major Global Industry Classification Standard (GICS) sectors.²
- Dividend Sustainability: Companies that have stable or increasing dividends during times of market volatility may not only offer the potential of rising income, but also may provide stability to an overall investment portfolio.
- Strong Financials: Guggenheim believes companies that exhibit strong fundamentals and that have historically distributed significant dividends on a consistent basis generally demonstrate financial strength and positive performance relative to their peers.

Dividend Payers: Historical Outperformance with Less Volatility

Guggenheim believes dividends can be an important component of an investment portfolio. They can represent an income source for living expenses or, if reinvested, dividends may have a material impact on a portfolio's total return. Over the last 20 years the impact of reinvested dividends has represented 36% of total market return!¹ Also, as shown in the chart below, dividend paying stocks from the S&P 500® Index outperformed both non-payers and dividend cutters, while experiencing less volatility.

In recognition of the important role that dividends can play in a portfolio, Guggenheim created the Diversified Dividend & Income Portfolio. The Trust consists of a portfolio of dividend-paying equity securities, diversified across GICS sectors that Guggenheim believes have the ability to sustain future dividends.

Dividend Payers Have Outperformed

Annualized total returns of S&P 500® Index stocks by dividend policy (7.31.2004-7.31.2024)

...While Experiencing Less Volatility

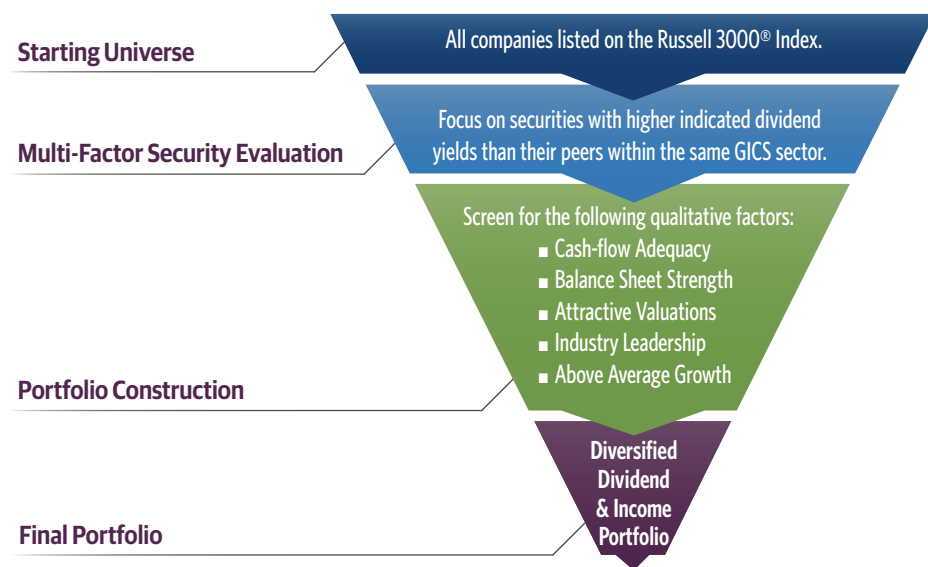

Volatility of S&P 500® Index stocks by dividend policy (7.31.2004-7.31.2024, as measured by beta)

Past performance is no guarantee of future results. Source: Guggenheim & FactSet. A company's dividend policy is determined by its indicated annual dividend. A stock is classified as a dividend-paying (All Dividend Payers) stock if the company indicates that it is going to be paying a dividend within the year. Dividend Cutters and Eliminators are defined as companies that have lowered or eliminated their dividend anytime in the last 12 months. Once a decrease occurs, it remains classified as a cutter for 12 months or until another change in dividend policy. A stock is classified as a Non-Dividend Payer if the stock's indicated annual dividend is zero. Beta is a measure of volatility relative to a benchmark. The benchmark has a beta of 1.0, so if the beta of an investment is 1.1 this means it has historically been 10% more volatile than the benchmark, and a beta of 0.9 would mean the investment has historically been 10% less volatile than the benchmark. Index performance is for illustration purposes only and is not meant to represent any investment product. Returns do not reflect any management fees, transaction costs or expenses. The index is unmanaged and not available for direct investment.

³ The Historical Annual Dividend Distribution (HADD) is as of the day prior to trust deposit and subject to change. There is no guarantee the issuers of the securities included in the Trust will declare dividends or distributions in the future. The HADD of the securities included in the Trust is for illustrative purposes only and is not indicative of the Trust's distribution rate. The HADD is the weighted average of the trailing twelve-month distributions paid by the securities included in the portfolio and is reduced to account for the effects of fees and expenses, which will be incurred when investing in the Trust. The HADD will vary due to certain factors that may include, but are not limited to, a change in the dividends paid by issuers, a change in Trust expenses or the sale or maturity of securities in the portfolio. ⁴ Fee/Wrap-based accounts will not be assessed the deferred sales charge for eligible purchases and must purchase units with a Fee-based CUSIP. For unit prices other than $10, percentage of the C&D fee will vary. ⁵ The deferred sales charge (DSC) is a fixed amount and will be deducted in monthly installments on the last business day commencing April 2025 and ending June 2025 or upon early redemption. For unit prices other than $10, percentages of C&D fees, and DSCs will vary but in no event will the maximum sales charge (S/C) exceed the total S/C. Early redemption of units will still cause payment of the DSC. However, an initial sales charge, which is equal to the difference between the maximum S/C and the sum of any remaining deferred S/C charges and C&D, will be charged if the price paid for units exceeds $10 per unit. ⁶ Estimated Organization Expenses are assessed on a fixed dollar amount per unit basis, therefore, actual organization costs may be more or less than estimates. For additional information on organizational costs and potential caps, please see the prospectus. ⁷ Trust operating expenses include fees for administration, bookkeeping, the trustee, sponsor, and evaluator. This expense also includes an estimated Trust operating expense based upon an estimated trust size. If the Trust does not reach or falls below the estimated size, the actual amount of the operating expenses may exceed the amount reflected. Please see "Fees and Expenses" in the Trust's prospectus for additional information.

RISK CONSIDERATIONS: As with all investments, you may lose some or all of your investment in the Trust. No assurance can be given that the Trust's investment objective will be achieved. The Trust also might not perform as well as you expect. This can happen for reasons such as these: • Securities prices can be volatile. The value of your investment may fall over time. Market values of the Trust's securities fluctuate in response to various factors affecting an issuer. Events such as war, terrorism, natural and environmental disasters and public health emergencies are impossible to predict and may adversely affect the economy which may negatively impact the performance of the Trust and the Trust's ability to achieve its investment objectives. • The Trust invests significantly in the financial sector, as a result, the factors that impact the financial sector will likely have a greater effect on this Trust than on a more broadly diversified trust. • The Trust invests in securities issued by mid-cap companies, which involve more investment risk due to limited product lines, markets or financial resources and may be more vulnerable to adverse general market or economic developments. • The Trust invests in U.S.-listed foreign securities. The Trust's investment in U.S.-listed foreign securities presents additional risk. Securities of foreign issuers present risks beyond those of domestic securities. More specifically, foreign risk is the risk that foreign securities will be more volatile than U.S. securities due to such factors as adverse economic, currency, political, social or regulatory developments in a country, including government seizure of assets, excessive taxation, limitations on the use or transfer of assets, the lack of liquidity or regulatory controls with respect to certain industries or differing legal and/or accounting standards. • The Trust may be susceptible to potential risks through breaches in cybersecurity. • The Trust is subject to risks arising from various operational factors and their service providers. Although the Trust seeks to reduce operational risks through controls and procedures, there is no way to completely protect against such risks. Please see the Trust prospectus for more complete risk information.
